Clos des Fous Pucalan Arenaria 2021

This 100% hand harvested Pinot Noir is from a single vineyard called Pucalan Arenaria in the Aconcagua region near the coast in Chile. The generous nose comes alive with notes of raspberry, cinnamon, spearmint, and crushed dry leaves. The palate is brigh with soft, velvet tannins and fresh raspberries and strawberries that lead to a long finish of baking spices and fruit.

Clos des Fous was founded in 2008 by Pedro Parra, Francois Massoc, Paco Leyton and Albert Cussen. The four friends were tired of hearing that Chilean wine was all boring, industrial, green, and overripe so they set out in search of the Dark Side of the Moon. Francois and Pedro are longtime friends, akin to brothers, and both have spent much time abroad making wine and working vineyards in Europe. Clos des Fous' philosophy is to produce wines with tension, from grapes grown in extreme terroir, with minimal intervention in the winery. Clos des Fous owns and manages vineyards in Malleco, Guarilihue, Alto Cahapoal, and Western Aconcagua. They produce a variety of wines and work with multiple iterations of Pinot Noir, Cinsault, Pais, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay and Riesling at their winery in Cauquenes, Maule. Pedro Parra has a Masters degree in precision agriculture and a Ph.D. for his work with terroir. Pedro currently consults as a terroir specialist around the globe in Argentina, Oregon, Italy, France, Spain, Georgia, Croatia, and beyond working with world renowned vignerons like Jegon Marc Roulot. Clos des Fous is one of Chile's most innovative, inspiring, and authentic wineries producing so
